RiverStone Health, in partnership with RiverStone Health Foundation, is embarking upon a critical investment in its facilities. The plan calls for the construction of a new clinic to the south of the current clinic. Its design will be based on the Patient Centered Medical Home model where care is coordinated across all elements of the complex healthcare system. The team approach is led by a primary care physician who collectively takes responsibility for the ongoing care of their patient. This model provides the continuum of care needed by our most vulnerable citizens.

RiverStone Health services are increasingly in demand. In the past 15 years the number of RiverStone Health clinic patients has tripled. One in six Montanans is uninsured – close to the highest rate in the nation. This is an investment in the region's health.

This investment will increase the overall capacity of the clinic while allowing for enhanced education programs that positively impact Montanans throughout the state. Since 1996, RiverStone Health has been home to the Montana Family Medicine Residency. Upon graduation 2/3 of the doctors have remained in Montana to practice medicine.

Thanks to the generosity of philanthropists, we are grateful the new clinic is closer to reality. To learn more about the project, please contact Foundation Executive Director Kristie Asay at 406.651.6510.
